

Online Crash Course “Russian and Eurasian Legal Studies / REALs”

Immanuel Kant Baltic Federal University (Kaliningrad, Russia) in cooperation with the University of Marburg (Germany) invites international students to participate in the Crash Course “Russian and Eurasian Legal Studies” (short. REALs). The brand-new English-taught course which has been recognized not only in Russia but also by the Hessen Ministry of Justice (Germany), is an ideal choice for those who would like to gain understanding of the rules, regulations and processes that currently shape the legal systems in Russia and the Eurasian Economic Union (EAEU).

The key aspects to be explored during the course include:

- Introduction to the Public Law and the Constitutional law of the Russian Federation;
- Introduction to the Russian Criminal Law and Human Rights Law;
- EAEU Integration Law;
- Introduction to the Russian Private Law.

The course is scheduled to take place between April 26 and May 21, 2021.

Within 4 weeks of studies the participants are expected to attend lectures, participate in seminars and carry out independent research activities and practical assignments. At the end of the course the students are to sit an exam. Those who pass the exam successfully will receive a certificate of completion.

The course workload amounts to 12 ECTS points which are awarded upon successful completion.

In 2021 the Crash Course “Russian and Eurasian Legal Studies” will be held online.

Registration is required to participate in the Crash Course. Please fill in the application form by following the link: <https://forms.gle/DmawRrQ3TBydFUJX9>

Participation is free of charge.

Application for REALs is open until March 26, 2021.

To learn more about the course, please join an online Information Session on REALs which is scheduled from March 03, 2021 starting at 12:00 (Kaliningrad time; UTC+02:00) on Zoom. To register and receive a link to the meeting, please fill in a short questionnaire: <https://forms.gle/e3TfRFCqyVY2oxwp8>

Application for the Information Session is open until March 01, 2021.

If you have questions, please contact Prof. Dr. Vadim Voynikov, the course coordinator, via email: vavoinikov@kantiana.ru

For more information, please visit: <https://eng.kantiana.ru/studies/non-degree-programs/crash-course-in-legal-studies>