Welcome to Cordoba

International students from more than 30 countries come to study in our classrooms and play a very important role in the life at our Faculty. The Facultad de Filosofía y Letras, which is located in a historical building in the old quarter of Cordoba, houses a legacy enriched by the cultural diversity of such a diverse student body.

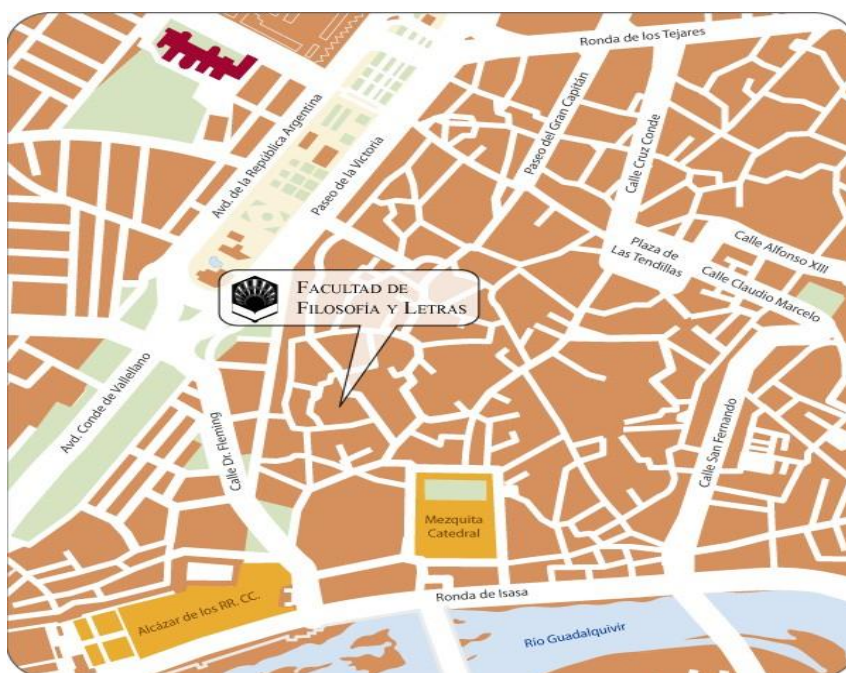

For us, culture is not just a concept, nor simply a series of courses in which to enrol. It is our reason for being and forms an integral part of our identity: a passion to which we dedicate our time and illusion and wish to transmit to our international students with enthusiasm.

I hope you find the information in this guide to be useful during your stay abroad with us and wish you much success in your studies.

Ricardo Córdoba
Dean of the Faculty of Filosofía y Letras

WHERE ARE WE?

Our Faculty is situated at the 'PLAZA DEL CARDENAL SALAZAR, in the old part of the city known as the Jewish quarter, the area surrounding the Mosque•Cathedral.

INTRODUCTION

Dear student,

Welcome to the University of Córdoba and to our Faculty of Arts & Humanities.

In this Study Guide you will find the most relevant information to plan your stay and studies in Córdoba and particularly at our Faculty.

OUR CAMPUS

The Hospital del Cardenal Salazar is currently home to the University of Córdoba's Facultad de Filosofía y Letras. Founded in 1703 in the historical quarter by Cardinal Pedro de Salazar Gutiérrez de Toledo, Bishop of Córdoba, the building's impressive Baroque façade opens onto a series of spaces around two courtyards with arches, the main one with a beautiful marble fountain. The breathtaking Chapel of San Bartolomé, built from the 14th to the 15th centuries, is a splendid example of Mudejar architecture.

The UCO has got a main International Relations Office situated in the city center; but every Faculty has its own Exchanges Coordinator.
