

Politics of basic foodstuff in times of crisis (17th-20th century)

10.-11.8.2023, Center for Near and Middle Eastern Studies (CNMS), Deutschhausstraße 12,
Room 01A09

Thursday, August 10th

from 9h00 get together

9h30-9h50, introduction

Panel I, 9h50-10h50

Verónica Peña Filiu (Pompeu Fabra University, Barcelona): Disrupting Food Systems and Challenging Imperial Projects: Food Crises, Colonialism, and Resilience in the Seventeenth-Century Mariana Islands (online presentation)

Richard Herzog (University of Marburg): A Tale of Two Riots - Connecting Food Scarcity and Racialization in Central Mexico (17th Century)

Vinita Rav (University of Delhi): Forest, Food and Famine: A study on food crisis in colonial Chotanagpur, 1850-1940s (online presentation)

10h50-12h00 Panel Discussion

Lunch, 12h-13h30

Panel II, 13h30-14h10

Olisa Godson Muojama (University of Ibadan, Nigeria): Food Control in British West Africa during World War II (online presentation)

Eriko Yamasaki (University of Marburg): Food security between cultivating maize and buying tortillas: Shifting foodways among the Yucatec Maya in contemporary Mexico

14h10-15h10: Panel Discussion

15h10-16h Round Table Discussion

City tour

19h00 Dinner

Friday, August 11th

from 9h00 get together

Panel III, 9h30-10h10

Robert Andrzejczyk (University of Rzeszów): Post WWI relief food aid for Poland (1919-1921)

Marzena Keating (Pedagogical University of Krakow): Food Scarcity in Ireland during the Emergency (1939-1946): An Analysis of Culinary Columns and Articles in Irish National and Local Press

10h10-11h10 Panel Discussion

Coffee Break, 11h10-11h30

Panel IV, 11h30-12h10

Urszula Niewiadomska-Flis (University of Lublin): “Food is Ammunition”: the US Food Administration’s campaigns through the prism of Affect Theory

Nina Régis (DHI Paris): Emotions and Breadrationing during First World War

12h10-13h10 Panel Discussion

Concluding Discussion 13h10-13h30

Lunch