

Online-Vernissage:
21.04.2021 18:00

Special exhibition: Annemarie Schimmel female scientist, linguistic genius, poetess and „friend collector“

RELIGIONSKUNDLICHE
SAMMLUNG

Zentrum für
Gender-Studies
& transnationale
Zukunftsforschung

Museum of Religions

Landgraf-Philipp-Straße 4, 35037 Marburg

Online-Vernissage

Annemarie Schimmel – female scientist, linguistic genius, poetess and „friend collector“

21st April 2021, 6pm (MESZ)

This special exhibition, located in the Museum of Religions, will honor the life of the internationally renowned Islamic and religious studies scholar Annemarie Schimmel (1922-2003). During the last year, Paulina Rinne, PhD student of the Phillips-University, has done extensive research regarding this outstanding scholar. The project was funded by the International Association for the History of Religions (IAHR) and its Women Scholars Network (WSN), the Japan Society for the Promotion of Science (JSPS) and the Research Center for Gender Studies (GfZ) as well as the Equal Opportunities Representatives of the Philipps-University Marburg.

Welcome Prof. Dr. Edith Franke (Philipps-University Marburg)

Greetings

Prof. Dr. Christl Maier (Director of the GfZ, Philipps-University Marburg)

Dr. Nina Schumacher (Equal Opportunities Representative, Philipps-University Marburg)

Prof. Dr. Dr. h.c. Michael Pye (Former General secretary and president of the IAHR)

Prof. Dr. Satoko Fujiwara (General secretary of the IAHR, WSN)

Annemarie Schimmel - a multilingual expert of Islam and friend.

Interview with Prof. Dr. Dr. Peter Antes (former president of the IAHR, former chairman of the German Society of the History of Religions, Leibniz University Hannover)

"Zum Geliebten wurde mir mein Buch ..." Ungewöhnliche Wege zu den islamischen Kulturen.

Dr. Gudrun Schubert (Schubert-Durand Foundation)

Following her steps

An insight into the exhibition given by the curator, Paulina Rinne, M.A. (Philipps-University Marburg)

Annemarie Schimmel as Pioneer and Inspiration

An interactive talk with Prof. Dr. Rosalind Hackett (Former president of the IAHR and co-founder of the IAHR WSN; University of Tennessee) and Dr. Arezou Azad (University of Oxford).

The event will be bilingual (English/German). For technical support our intern Anna Behre will be available via email (anna.behre@googlegmail.com) and, in case of emergency, via phone: +49 17651879753.

Further information: <https://uni-marburg.de/8HbPB>