

Fifth NaDiMa Online Dialogue

Introduction to Application of GIS in Natural Disaster Risk Management

Time: 28th November 2020, 10:00 am - 4:00 pm CET

Aims:

- Understanding geoinformatics for disaster management planning and emergency response
- Developing skills in implementing functionalities of QGIS software for disaster management
- Generating maps or monitoring and analysis of drought hazard

Target group:

- Master & PhD students from the fields of Geography, Economics, Disaster Management, Engineering, and Water Management

Workshop capacity:

- 35 participants (first come, first served)

Instructors:

Sudeh Dehnavi
TH Köln

Neda Abbasi
Universität Göttingen

Further Information:

www.uni-marburg.de/cnms/nadima nadima@uni-marburg.de

Sponsored by:

Road, Housing & Urban Development Research Center