

WHY EMEA?

Prof. Dr. Mohammad Reza Farzanegan, Programme Director

Our interdisciplinary curriculum offers a unique opportunity to enhance your knowledge of economics, business, and Middle Eastern affairs. By studying with us, you can open doors to a variety of exciting career opportunities in international organizations and private companies. Plus, our program provides a strong foundation for PhD studies in economics and related fields.

Miray Sena Arslan, Student

The EMEA programme provides students with an exceptional opportunity to launch their international careers. It equips students with interdisciplinary knowledge from the fields of economics, politics, and intercultural studies, both globally and within the context of the Middle East and North Africa region. I highly recommend the EMEA programme, and I truly enjoy my studies here.

Hani Assaf, Student

EMEA is a unique programme that offers a comprehensive curriculum designed to equip students with advanced economic analysis skills and an intellectually enriching education in MENA-focused economics. In addition, the university is providing students with a dynamic and well-equipped learning environment.

APPLICATION

Universität
Marburg

What are the application requirements?

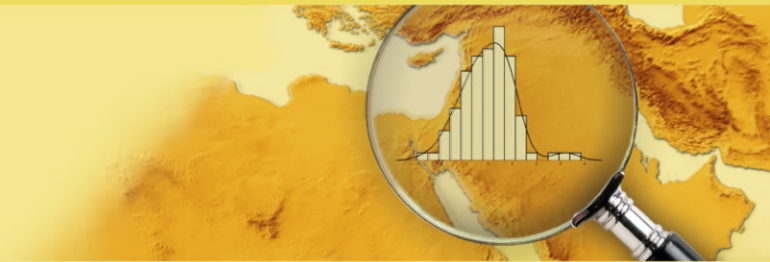

- Bachelor's degree (or equivalent) in theoretical or business economics
- A minimum of 72 ECTS covering business and economics, with at least 18 ECTS in economics and 12 ECTS in related method courses
- English language proficiency at C1 CEFR level

studifon
(064 21) 28-222 22

Master of Science
Economics of the Middle East (EMEA)

www.uni-marburg.de/emea
emea@uni-marburg.de

Unlock the Secrets of MENA: Join the EMEA Master's Program

Discover EMEA - Master of Science in Economics and Business Administration in the Middle East and North Africa. Immerse yourself in a unique interdisciplinary program that combines institutional economics and business administration with a focus on the complexities of the MENA region.

Gain a deep understanding of the region with a wide range of electives from various disciplines, covering current issues such as political economy of Islam, natural resources, corruption, conflict, and economic sanctions.

With a specialization track, sharpen your skills in economics, finance, accounting, and management, and set yourself apart as a regional expert with modern problem-solving abilities.

Take your education to the next level by experiencing the region firsthand with a semester abroad at one of our many partner universities in the MENA region. Apply now and start your journey to a successful international career.

Structure of EMEA

Semester	1.	2.	3.	4.	ECTS
Introduction to MENA Region	→				12
Economic Analysis	→	→			12
MENA Economics	→	→			30
Specialisation • Accounting and Finance • Institutional Economics • Market-based Management • Digitalisation, Entrepreneurship, and Innovation			→		18
Electives			→		18
Thesis				→	30
				SUM	120

Key Features of EMEA

- Four semesters for a total of 120 ECTS (European Credit Transfer System).
- Study introductory and advanced economics of the Middle East and North Africa (MENA), as well as applied quantitative methods.
- Choose from specialisation tracks and electives to tailor the curriculum to your interests.
- Study for free at Philipps-Universität Marburg with no tuition fees for EMEA.

How Can You Benefit from EMEA?

- Acquire a master's degree in general economics that is specifically tailored to the job market for economists with in-depth regional expertise.
- Experience a unique blend of institutional economics, business administration, and MENA economics.
- Study crucial topics relevant to the Middle East and North Africa (MENA) region.
- Network with highly-skilled alumni in various fields, such as business, government, and research.
- Enhance your intercultural competencies through international classes and the option to spend a semester abroad in the MENA region.

Contact and More Information

- emea@uni-marburg.de
- www.uni-marburg.de/emea
- www.facebook.com/economicchange
- www.instagram.com/studyemea